

Nimrod Expedition to the South Pole 1907-1909

Shackleton's Diary

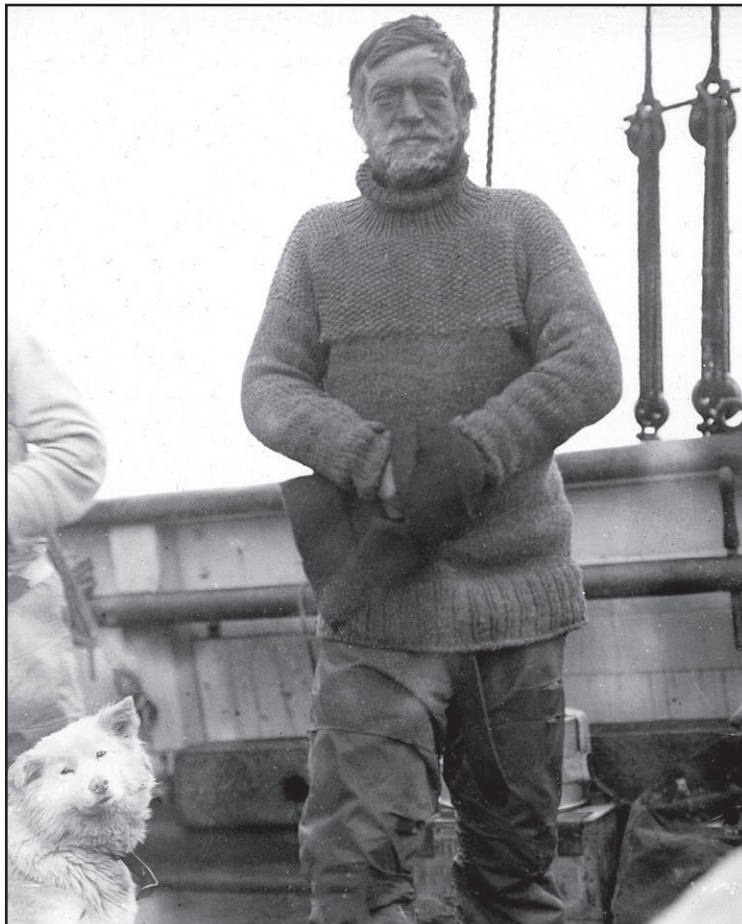

Nimrod Expedition to the South Pole

In 1907, Ernest Shackleton set out to reach the South Pole in Antarctica.

The team got very close to the South Pole before they had to turn back.

This is Ernest Shackleton's diary.

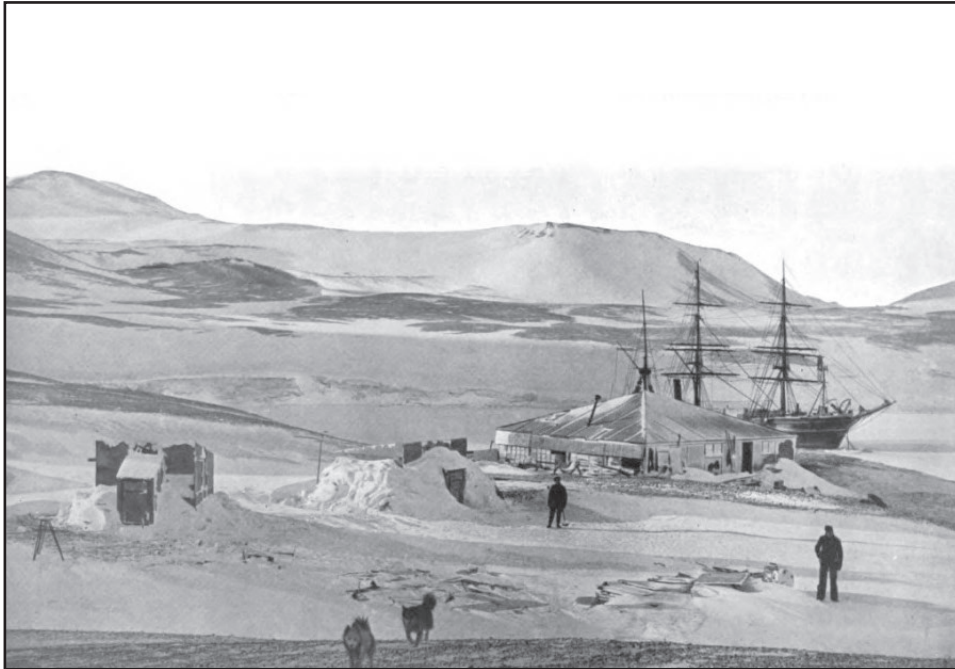

Setting Off

On board the ship to Antarctica with Frank Wild, Eric Marshall and Jameson Adams

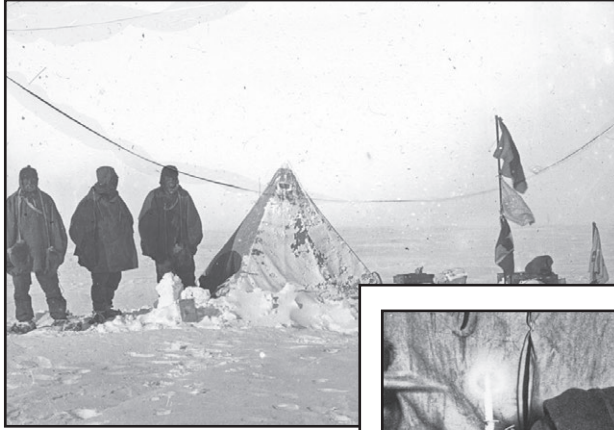

Reaching Antarctica

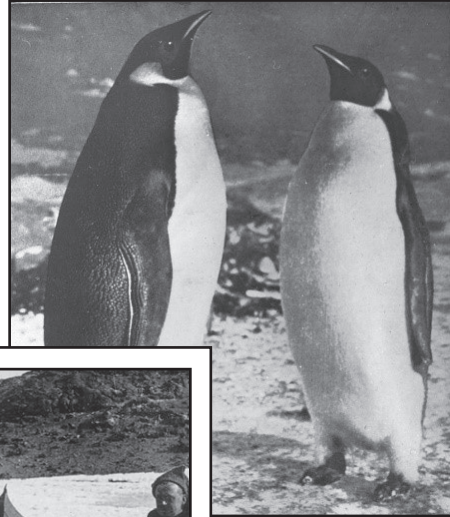

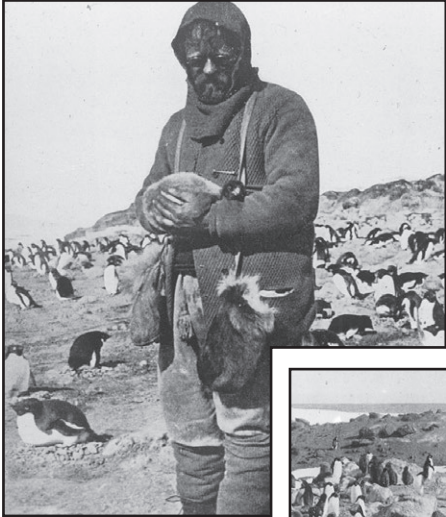

Travelling Across the Ice

Life in Camp

Local Wildlife

The End of the Mission